

Truman and Photographers in Oval Office

Description

President Harry S. Truman in the Oval Office, posing with photographers and their winning photographs in the sixth annual contest of the White House News Photographers Association. The Harris Trophy stands on the floor in front of the president. The photographers are holding their winning photographs. From left to right: Paul J. Dennehy of the Washington Times-Herald with his photo, "A Good Night's Rest;" Thomas O'Halloran of Harris & Ewing with his photo, "Downcast;" Harvey Georges of the Associated Press with his winning sports photo; President Harry S. Truman, holding two of Frank Cancellare's winning photos "Love in Bloom" and the winning presidential class photo; Frank Cancellare of Acme holding his grand prize winning "Taint The Way I Heard It;" and an unidentified photographer.

Date(s)

March 3, 1949

Accession Number
73-3044

8x10 inches (21x26 cm) Black & White

Keywords Awards Photographers Presidents

HST Keywords Truman - Press - TV

People Pictured Truman, Harry S., 1884-1972

Rights Public Domain - This item is in the public domain and can be used freely without further permission.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Credit: Abbie Rowe National Park Service Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.