

United States Naval Corpsmen Carry Dead North Koreans Aboard the USS Manchester

Description

Two unidentified corps men carry a stretcher with a dead North Korean aboard the USS Manchester. A group of unidentified naval corpsmen work in the "whale boat" where other dead North Koreans' bodies await transport. The North Koreans unsuccessfully attempted to mine the USS Manchester in Wonson Harbor off the coast of Korea. The photograph was in an album entitled "The story of the North Korean small boat flotilla who attempted to mine us in on [sic] a dark foggy night R. Adm. Lewis S. Parks. USS Manchester."

Date(s)

May 1951

Accession Number 2015-289

8x10 inches (21x26 cm) Black & White

Related Collection Parks, Lewis S. Papers

Keywords Korean War, 1950-1953

Rights Public Domain - This item is in the public domain and can be used freely without further permission.

Note: If you use this image, rights assessment and attribution are your responsibility.

Credit: U.S. Navy Harry S. Truman Library & Museum.

Attention media: Please make note of this item's accession number. Print out this page and retain it for your permissions records before downloading this image file for possible publication. Library staff cannot sign permissions forms or provide additional paperwork. The Library charges no usage fees for downloaded images.