

Description

A group of unidentified men are shown seated and standing and identified as "a part of our mail dept. at KC [Knights of Columbus] Hut, Cours la Reine, Paris, 1927." These activities were held during an American Legion gathering. The Catholic Church affiliated Knights of Columbus established a "hut program" during World War I to assist soldiers with their motto being "everybody welcome, everything free." This photograph is a part of others associated with the Knights of Columbus activities taking place in Paris at this time. The date is believed to be fall, 1927.
